

County shifts gears for the strike

Management carries on with work

You can go see your probation officer during the county strike, or visit with a counselor, but when you turn on your tap no water may come out.

A check of county agencies which operate in the Valley revealed that management employees are struggling through, sometimes aided by union members who have chosen not to walk out.

"It's pretty much business as usual" was the report from Valley Mental Health Services on Hopyard Road.

The Valley's counseling and psychiatric clinic operated by the county reported only one of its 16 staff members out yesterday, although several county employees from out of town were picketing the offices at 3720 Hopyard.

Many clinic employees, including the doctors, are not members of the striking unions. Others chose to come to work.

Probation Department officers in Livermore were "punching typewriters," perhaps for the first time, yesterday because their secretaries were out.

The county probation officers themselves belong to an independent organization which is still negotiating. The office was being picketed, part-time, by several strikers who don't work there.

Meanwhile, said a spokesman, "We're accepting handwritten documents" for the duration of the secretaries' walkout.

There was nobody taking welfare and food stamp applications yesterday at the Valley's lone welfare office, part of the Good Samaritan agency on Catalina Drive, Livermore.

"The county welfare office in Fremont said they'd try to send somebody tomorrow," a spokesperson said, suggesting prospective applicants call Good Sam (455-0747) before showing up there.

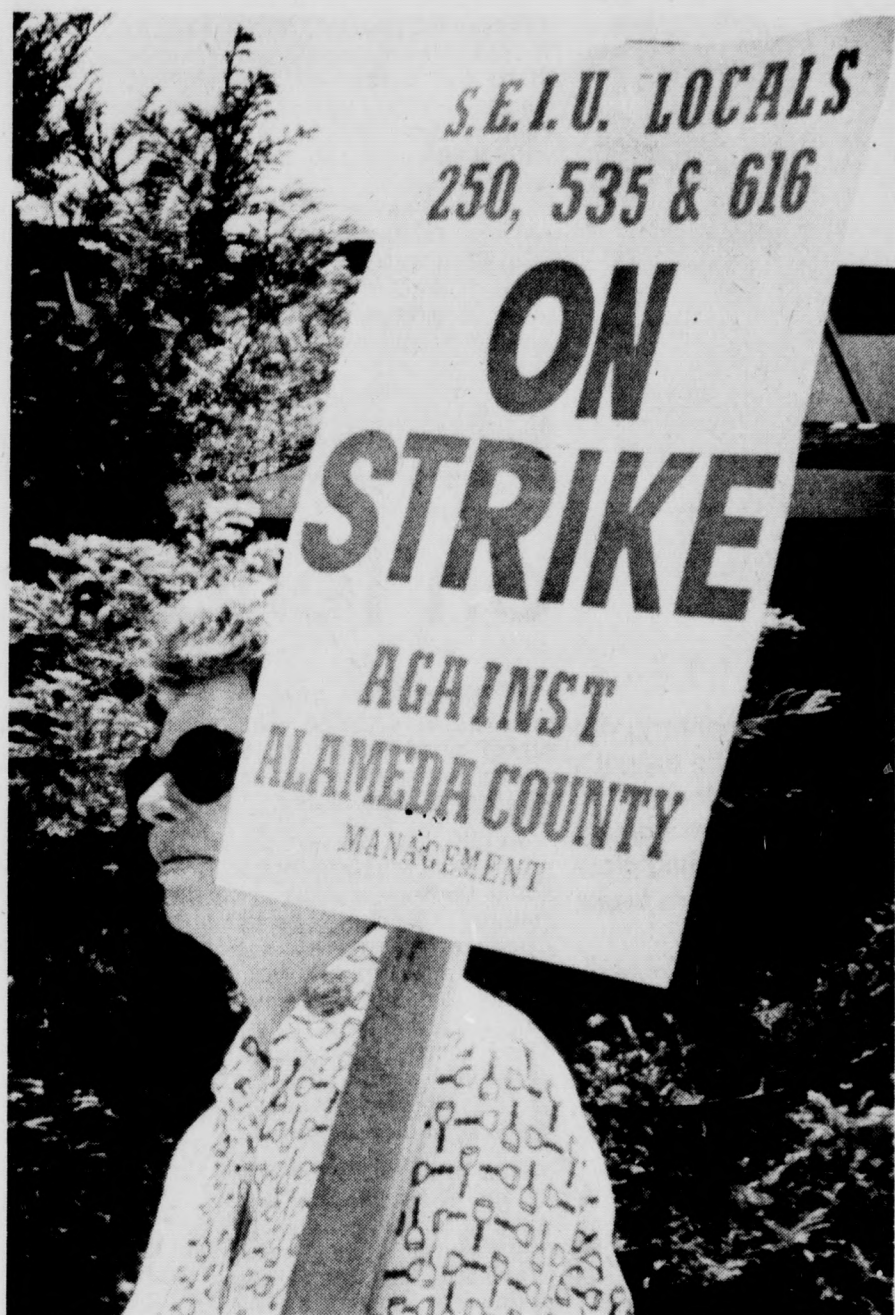

No pickets were reported at that small outpost of the Welfare Department.

George Darnell, one of two management employees trying to keep Del Valle Water Treatment Plant open on Vallecitos Road, is working noon to midnight, seven days a week. The three union employees are out, putting the burden on two management workers to monitor all equipment and stand watch.

Already, Darnell reported some of his telemetry circuits out, preventing him from having a complete handle on the pumping and delivery of water throughout the area. Water main breaks, which may occur at any time, may not be repaired if craftsmen refuse to cross the picket line, Darnell said.

But there hasn't actually been much of a picket line at the plant; a lone picket stood watch from midnight to 8 a.m. yesterday and then went home without having been relieved by another picket.

Office no-shows increase as staff revamps tally

Alameda County Bureau

OAKLAND — As much as 40 per cent of the county's 9,500 service employees launched or honored the county's first strike in eight years yesterday.

Earlier estimates of 30 per cent participation were wiped clean late yesterday afternoon when the county's first official tally pegged absenteeism at 35 per cent. But health services agencies, with a marked percentage of members of the three striking unions, had not yet reported their attendance figures.

Those workers combined with the snowballing effect of the strike could push the figure past 50 per cent.

Hardest hit were social services, with 600 of 1,900 employees reporting for work yesterday.

The county responded by closing its Fremont and Berkeley public assistance offices and transferring more than half the 158 patients from Highland Hospital to private facilities. Fairmont Hospital in San Leandro has kept most of its 163 patients. Both hospitals will accept emergency cases, however.

There is "more absenteeism in mental health than any other unit," according to County Administrator Loren Enoch.

One psychiatric in-patient unit at Highland Hospital has been closed. Eighteen patients were transferred to private facilities and two were taken to the state hospital at Napa.

Deputy sheriffs, their ranks bolstered by 13 private security police, will work six, 12 hour shifts each week for the duration of the strike, Sheriff Tom Houchins told The Times.

"Our department's geared for this," he said. "All the years at Berkeley prepared us."

There were no reports of violence yesterday. Houchins said his deputies — both men and women stood guard at county buildings and patrolled hallways and the county parking lot — were "setting the ground rules. Showing the pickets what they have to do to stay legal."

In spite of a memorandum issued yesterday by Presiding Superior Court Judge Robert K. Barber, 22 of the 32 court clerks were not at their desks.

Judge Barber said court personnel are obligated by civil code to report for work.

The county is prepared to supply clerks if the lack of court proceedings jeopardizes pending criminal cases, said Enoch.

The strike has been sanctioned by the 63,000-member Alameda County Central Labor Council, and Teamsters International local 70 officials said their drivers would honor the picket lines.

The fate of the county's garbage remains in doubt, however.

A spokesman at Oakland Scavenger Co., which collects the county's refuse, said the drivers are members of local 70, but he would not confirm reports they would refuse the refuse.

Enoch said the lack of deliveries will be felt mainly at hospitals and jails.

The county "is not initiating any legal action at this time," he said. "It is being considered, but only considered."

"Some provisions will be made" for next week's primary election, he added, noting the registrar of voters' office is staffed by 45 personnel and needs between 120 and 130 workers for the election.

Registrar of Voters Jim Riggs said more than half his personnel were at work yesterday. They were calling precinct workers to confirm help in Tuesday's vote.

Union spokesmen said they would not picket polling places. But at a mass rally Tuesday night, they said they will "approach" AC Transit and BART unions for support of their plight.

At yesterday's press conference in the county plaza, union negotiator John Bowers refused to comment on any talks with AC and BART workers.

The county Public Defenders' office reported 140 of 170 attorneys at work, while the District Attorney's office was "full operational," Enoch said.

Probation department officials reported 735 of 829 workers present and Enoch said he foresees "no problems" at the county's juvenile hall and camps. More than 400 youths are held at the facilities.

North county supervisor Tom Bates moved his staff from the county's administration building to Assemblyman Ken Meade's downtown Oakland offices. Bates is running for the 12th Assembly District post that Meade is vacating.

One of the three staff members moved said they did so "because the staff does not want to cross the picket lines. We're opposed to that both philosophically and politically," she said.

All of the supervisors' staff reported for work.

There is "no movement in negotiations at the present time," Enoch said. The board held two more closed door, executive sessions yesterday and said they are open for discussion on certain issues with employees.

Echoing Enoch, union negotiator John Bowers said he will be "looking at things as they develop, day by day." Bowers denied reports the unions have insisted on meeting only with the board of supervisors. He said the negotiating committee "will talk to anybody involved."

Picket lines have been thrown up around some 90 county buildings, he said, and were "strong all over the county."

The unions want a 7.6 per cent pay and fringe benefits package they say is equal to one given management personnel this year.

The county is offering a 4.2 per cent package they claim conforms to a salary survey formula that pegs wages at 4 per cent above the median for comparable jobs in the Bay Area.

In assessing the impact of the strike, Enoch said "Any time you have 30 per cent of your employees out and picket lines formed, it's a serious situation ... There's a limit on how long you can continue services without an adequate staff."

"I certainly believe it's a serious situation."

Clear so far

Pickets would shut down fair

PLEASANTON — It's possible there may not be an Alameda County Fair from June 29 to July 11, depending on how long the county employees' strike lasts and what attitude they take toward the fairgrounds.

The Service Employees International Union is striking against county management over dissatisfaction with the more than 3 per cent pay raise offer, 4 per cent below what they asked.

The SEIU is posting pickets at county facilities all around the county on a random basis daily, according to SEIU business representative Jerry Zellhoefer. They haven't picketed the fairgrounds yet and they are not sure they will, said Zellhoefer.

If there were pickets in front of the fairgrounds at fair time, it would shut down the fair, according to General Manager Lee Hall. Nearly all of the many employees needed at fair time — paramutual clerks, some racing officials, concessionaires, janitors, and parking lot attendants — are union members and could be expected to honor a picket line, said Hall.

A picket line even before the fair opening would cause a lot of problems, too. Union labor is working on capital improvement projects such as new lighting at the main entrance, a new theatre walk area and completion of the livestock judging area.

As far as events at the fairgrounds — for example, the Firemen's Muster scheduled for this weekend — there are no problems, though groups sponsoring them can cancel them if they wish.

The Firemen's Muster is sponsored by the Pleasanton Firemen's Association, a group of volunteer firemen. Unlike the city's regularly employed firefighters, they don't belong to a firefighters union, so no problems are anticipated.

Of course, if there were picket lines at the fairgrounds, individual regular firefighters might honor them, according to a fire department source.

The striking union's strategy is to concentrate on some county facilities some days and skip others "to keep up the momentum of the strike," said Zellhoefer.

"We have not made any firm decision about what to do on the fairgrounds," said Zellhoefer. "The primary interest is to shut the county down. There are lots of different ways. We want the county to negotiate with us."

Zellhoefer said that other unions have pledged their support for the strike. The president of Teamsters Local 70 announced his union's total support before a strike rally crowd of 2,000 Tuesday night at the Oakland Auditorium, said Zellhoefer.

"We've had good turnout on the picket line. We had weeks of extensive organization. We set the county into zones, designated picket captains, told them their legal rights, told them what things to do and what not to do. We hope the strike is over as soon as possible. We didn't want it in the first place," said Zellhoefer.

Pleasanton tax-halt move fails, but Las Positas overcross gains

PLEASANTON — Council members Ken Mercer and Frank Brandes failed in a bid to halt a city tax increase, but the Las Positas overpass fund grew richer Tuesday night.

Mercer backed Brandes motion to take some $500,000 in street capital improvement funds and do the following: allocate $290,000 for the Las Positas overpass, $150,000 for other street improvements around town, and transfer the remaining $60,000 to the general fund to prevent a five cent tax increase.

Mayor Robert Philcox, Vice Mayor Joyce LeClaire and Council member William Herlihy voted against Brandes motion. They felt it is important to stem the flow of money from capital improvements to the general fund.

On a second vote, they joined Brandes and Mercer to allocated $350,000 for Las Positas and $150,000 for other street improvements.

The council discussed the future fate of Las Positas with the $350,000 looming as a first step toward some bpg accomplishment.

Brandes wants to build an overpass with two vehicle lanes and one pedestrian lane at an estimated cost of $1.5 million. The $350,000 in the fund would cut it to a little less than $1.25 million needed in bonds. The bonds would cost eight or nine cents on the tax rate.

Mayor Robert Philcox and Philcox and LeClaire were reluctant to make any commitments yet about a Las Positas bond issue until the council studies the cost of bonds needed for solving the city's sewer woes. That study session was scheduled for last night.

LeClaire said that both the sewer bonds and Las Positas overpass bonds as well as a tax override for added police and fire personnel are all equally meritorious, but voters probably won't buy all three bond issues at the same election. The council will have to decide which will come first, she said.

The council also huddled with the park and recreation commission and they were pretty much in agreement about the projects which should be funded in the coming years. The only project proposed by the staff which met skepticism was $20,000 for lighting Hansen and Amador Parks. The commission will return June 14 with its recommendation for those funds. It also will try to think of some specific projects for various parks which have been budgeted by the staff.

The council also authorized Stone and Youngberg to do a study of the city's water and sewer rate schedules to determine how they should be changed in the face of higher costs to the city.

Zone 7 has had two rate increases and plans a third next year. The city must increase the water rates or it will have a $197,000 deficit in its water fund next year, reported Assistant to the City Manager Jim Walker.

Church going to build on flood zone

PLEASANTON — St. Clare's Episcopal Church plans to construct a church and classroom building, each 4,000 square feet on a three-acre site at Hopyard Road, Valley Trails Drive and National Park Road.

City Manager Bill Edgar has found that although the project is located in a designated flood hazard area, proper mitigating measures will be taken by the church to remove the hazard.

Traffic ingress and egress would be to and from Valley Trails Drive only. Peak church traffic is not to occur at times when traffic on adjacent streets is heavy.

Edgar has issued a negative declaration for the need for an Environmental Impact Report on the site. Persons wishing to appeal his decision have until 10 days after May 28, date of the legal publication, to do so.

Firefighters' muster twice this weekend

PLEASANTON — The city's eighth annual firefighters' muster will get in gear Saturday with a pancake breakfast at the fairgrounds cafeteria, 7 a.m. to 11 a.m. and opening ceremonies at noon.

The two-day extravaganza will feature the men and women's bucket brigade at 12:30 p.m., band concert by the Pleasanton Middle School band at 1 p.m., motorized apparatus contest at 3 p.m. and awards for the day's events at 5 p.m.

A barbecue with tickets at $3 per person will be held at 7 p.m. All events will be at the fairgrounds.

On Sunday, another pancake breakfast will grace the fairgrounds cafeteria from 7 a.m. to 11 a.m., followed by the traditional parade down Main Street at noon, hose cart races at 1 p.m., Foothill High School band concert at 2:30 p.m. in the fair amphitheatre, hand pumper competition at 3 p.m. and awards ceremony at 5 p.m.

Burglars hit home and two cars on Camilia Drive

LIVERMORE — Versatile burglars broke into two cars and a garage on Camilia Drive early Tuesday, taking nearly $750 in valuables, police reported yesterday.

Burglars broke into Donald Eugene Benthussen's 1975 Newporter Housecar and stole a citizens band radio valued at $139. Entry into the vehicle was made by prying open the driver's side wing window, police said.

A toolbox containing $250 in tools was taken from Benthussen's garage.

Burglars then went up the street to Carol Horgan's car, pried open the side window, and took a $150 CB radio and a $200 leather coat.

Missing items from Benthussen's home and car included a Craftsman brand grey toolbox containing several socket and wrench sets and an Arroyo brand model S600 23-channel CB radio. Total loss was set at $389.

Horgan's loss included a CB radio worth $150, and a woman's black full length double-breasted leather coat, size 12, valued at $200.

Police have no suspects.

Burglars take goods from housing director's apartment

PLEASANTON — Burglars entered the apartment of city housing authority executive director George Michael Parsons and took more than $600 in valuables, police said yesterday.

Parsons returned from a business trip in Hawaii and discovered the theft. Missing items include a Browning brand double-barrel (over and under) shotgun valued at $200, and a Mamiya/Sekor brand model 500TL 35mm camera worth $400.

Police said there were no apparent signs of forced entry into the apartment. They are searching for a chicanita adult for questioning in the case, it was reported.

CB units taken from two cars on Shelburne Road

LIVERMORE — Burglars forced their way into two cars parked in Richard Warren Shell's Shelburne Road driveway Friday and stole valuables worth $740.

Police said burglars pried open driver's side wing windows to gain entry. Two citizen band radios were ripped from their mounts and wiring connections, it was reported.

Missing items include a Midland brand 23-channel unit worth $300, a Robyn brand unit with power mike valued at $250, and a model 108 Polaroid camera tagged at $190.

Police found a flashlight battery in one car and are checking it for prints. There are no suspects in the case.

Tires and rims taken from 1976 Dodge van

LIVERMORE — Burglars opened the passenger side wing window to Jerome Ybarra's van parked in front of his Curlew Road home early Monday, found the key to his wheels in the glove box and stole the tires and rims, police reported yesterday.

Police said the glove box had been ransacked, and was missing a hunting knife, flashlight and key to the rims. Burglars then jacked up the car, removed the wheels and set the axles on bricks.

Residents in the area reported hearing noises but saw nothing.

Missing items include an 8-inch hunting knife, silver flashlight, four 15-inch American Vector brand 8-inch deep well rims, four 15-inch B.F. Goodrich radials tires with raised white letters, and four McGard brand wheel locks, serial no. 601536. Total loss was estimated at $700.

Police have no suspects in the case.

When will kids lose freedom?

LIVERMORE — Will school summer vacation end Aug. 30 this year?

Or Sept. 10?

Or somewhere in between?

A lot of people would love to know — like parents planning their summer vacations, not to mention the Livermore Unified School District's 1,000 employees.

The question will be taken up at tonight's school board meeting (adjourned from Tuesday night) in the Education Center, Las Positas Boulevard at Murrieta.

The Livermore Education Association, representing teachers, is asking for the Sept. 10 school opening date. Teachers would spend Sept. 8 getting their classrooms ready and would have the ninth, Admission Day, off.

Labor Day comes late this year — Monday, Sept. 6. Normally school opens a day or two after that end-of-summer holiday.

Superintendent of Schools Leo Croce has suggested Monday, Aug. 30, as the first day children would return to the classroom. He has not offered an explanation for that suggestion.

Besides discussing the school calendar, trustees will approve a list of teachers hired for the summer school program. That item was held over from Tuesday night's meeting, when the outcome of a proposed summer school pay cut proposal made the employee list uncertain. As it happened, the board refused to change to a new (and stinger) pay method and summer school plans went ahead unscathed.

The school board will also go into closed session to talk over their negotiations with teachers, now underway.

New library home discovered?

DUBLIN — After a two-year search, the Dublin Public Library may have found a site on which to build its new home. Negotiations are underway between Alameda County and the Boise Cascade Company to acquire part of the company's property located between Amador Valley Boulevard on the north, Dublin Boulevard on the south, and Amador Plaza on the east.

Alameda County is conducting negotiations on behalf of the Dublin Library, a branch of the Alameda County Library System.

The library wants to buy a two-acre parcel on which to build its new home. The Boise Cascade property is a 37-acre site.

Clarence Quist of the Alameda County Public Works Department notes there are "understandable reasons" why Boise Cascade is reluctant to part with a piece of the large parcel.

"I would say we are receiving fair cooperation with Boise Cascade," Quist said. "I think I've worked out a friendly compromise, and at present we're waiting for an appraisal of the two acres to be done."

The appraisal may take three weeks, but Quist hopes that "within a month we'll have a good indication of where we are."

For Dublin librarian Virginia Bennett, the word that work on the new library can begin can't come soon enough.

"If we got the okay today, we'd go out and start shoveling the dirt ourselves on weekends," Bennett said. "We're that anxious."

It has been two years since the voters approved a measure to create a taxing district to pay for the new library.

To get enough money to go ahead with the project, the County Retirement Board has agreed to loan the funds to the community.

"The money will be instantly available as soon as we get the land," Bennett explained. "The board will own the building until we can pay it off through our taxes."

In anticipation that the negotiations with Boise Cascade will be completed successfully, the library has asked the Valley Community Services District for a sewer connection.

Once the land is acquired, architects will begin to design the building. Bennett said it is hoped that construction can begin by next year.

For Dublin residents, the new library is a long time coming. Relative to its size, the Dublin library is the second most frequented branch in the county system. And Bennett said that on a percentage basis, the staff at the Dublin library does more work than any other staff in the system.

Hail the help

Livermore teachers and principals, like Bob Hill of Rincon Elementary, are honoring their volunteer helpers as school closes for the year. The district's more than 1,000 parents and community members who volunteer in the schools perform duties from driving kids on field trips to tutoring to stapling booklets together and feeding school pets over holidays and building playground equipment. Here, Hill chats with kindergarten volunteer Chris Leake and teacher Sue Coburn.

No word yet on plan to rezone at Portola

LIVERMORE — The planning commission continued without comment consideration of the draft environmental impact report for the proposed rezoning of 52 acres along Portola Avenue by Chester Anderson at its meeting Tuesday night.

Anderson's proposal to rezone the property from agriculture to a suburban multiple residence district will be considered at the commission's June 15 meeting.

According to city Planning Director George Musso, the matter was continued because of the lateness of the hour when it came up for review. The commission's comments will be forwarded to Alameda County which has jurisdiction over the Anderson property.

Commission concerns over the proposed rezoning of property on the south side of Las Positas Road (east of N. Livermore Avenue) also will be sent to the county.

The commission reviewed an application by Pleasanton Investors and Gertrude Wornow to rezone the property from agriculture to single family residential - 10 acre minimum building site.

Commissioners concluded that although they agreed in concept with the proposal other concerns such as the use of specific tanks and the resulting limited access to the ridge area because of such land use did not make the rezoning a viable idea, according to Musso.

In other business Tuesday night, the commission

Continued to its June 15 meeting review of suggested revisions to the proposed neighborhood commercial (CN) district; discussion over adoption of an Historic Preservation (HP) zoning combining district, and comment on the Livermore - Amador Valley Plan being revised by the county.

Initiated General Plan Amendments regarding the land use element for certain areas of the city.

Denied an application of Roger Shaheen for a variance to permit the reduction in required front yard landscaping along the east side of Research Drive.

Recommended to the city council the fence height in the front yard at 1861 Helsinki Way be allowed.

Allowed withdrawal of an application of Allen's Plumbing for a conditional use permit for facilities at 6364 N. Front Road.

Cable car riders hurt in SF mishap

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A tourist-packed cable car lurched to a halt at the top of a hill overlooking San Francisco Bay on Wednesday, jostling some riders and sending others sprawling into the street.

Twenty-three persons were treated at local hospitals for bumps and scrapes. A spokesman for Municipal Railway said the cable grip got stuck in the cable that runs beneath the street, bringing the wooden car to an abrupt stop.

The accident occurred as the car was moving south on Hyde Street near Northpoint, one block from the edge of the San Francisco Bay.

"It was our last day in the big city," said Marcie McCarthy, a tourist from Milwaukee, Wis.

She said the car was moving very slowly when it stopped abruptly. "We were standing in the back and we were thrown back," said Mrs. McCarthy, who was treated for a bump on her head.

Her husband, John, said a man standing near them hit his head on the window glass and broke it. "He was very nonchalant," he said. "He said he was okay. He just lay there on the ground, smoking a cigar."

Reed Gordon, claims supervisor for the Municipal Railway, said the driver, Peter Kohlinberg, also shattered the front glass with his head but was not seriously hurt.

The city's 38 rickety cable cars, a symbol of San Francisco for more than a century, were idled for 38 days because of a municipal workers' strike. Each was tested before being returned to service when the strike ended May 8.

The cars move at an average speed of nine miles an hour over the hills in San Francisco. They are operated by a 1½-mile-long underground steel cable.

All the cars have open-air benches. Passengers perch precariously on running boards on the sides of the vehicles, holding onto railings.

McLain was in time with expense record

PLEASANTON — Former council member Roger McLain did too get his Proposition 9 expenses filed on time, contrary to a Times story a few weeks ago.

McLain's treasurer filed the final report prior to the May 5 closing period and a city hall employee assumed that one more filing was due, hence the error.

The law permits a treasurer to file reports prior to the end of the last reporting period if the candidates' books are closed prior to the deadline, which they were with McLain.

Candidates had to report individual contributions of more than $50. McLain reported $50 each from Willow West property developers who own a site on Hopyard Road, Vic-

Lund, Jr., a local rancher and realtor, and John Stanley, manager of the local PG&E offices.

Irene Trefzer, Julia Halpin, Robert Myers and Grace Gilbert gather around the organ that was recently purchased through the efforts of volunteers, patients and staff of the hospital.

Hospital gets an organ

It was less than a year ago when volunteer Grace Gilbert decided that an organ would greatly enhance the activities being carried out for patients at Pleasanton Convalescent Hospital.

Mrs. Gilbert is in charge of a weekly Bible study and fellowship class at the hospital. She so strongly believed the organ would be an asset that she promptly offered a cash donation towards the purchase.

Robert J. Myers, co-owner and hospital administrator, set up a special fund for the purchase of the organ. The first contributions came from the patients themselves. Excited by the prospects of having an organ, patients busily made and sold craft items.

The primary of the money came from the sale of baby quilts. Julie Halpin, a spry 81-year-old patient, spends much of her time hand-tying these baby quilts, which are so much in demand that they are sold before they are even put on the quilt frames. As the fund grew, staff and other volunteers made donations.

Mrs. Irene Trefzer, newly elected president of the Pleasanton Women's Club, heard of the fund and became interested in helping through her organization. When her husband, Dr. Armin C. Trefzer, died at the hospital recently, Mrs. Trefzer let family and friends know that in lieu of flowers, donations to the hospital organ fund would be appreciated.

"This seemed appropriate," said Mrs. Trefzer, "because 'Doc's' two favorite activities at the hospital were the church services where the organ is heard each week and the music class, where 'Doc's' deep German voice is greatly missed."

The dedication plaque on the organ read: "In memory of Dr. A.C. 'Doc' Trefzer. Donated by his family, friends and Pleasanton Convalescent Hospital Auxiliary."

Now that the organ is paid for, patients and volunteers are starting a fund for a micro-wave oven to be used in the cooking class and for staff members to warm-up their lunches.

Multi-purpose center

LIVERMORE — Architect Ronald Gammill of Hirshen, Gammill, Trumbo & Cook — the firm selected to construct the city's multi-purpose center — is scheduled to be present at a special meeting of the Social Concerns Committee tonight.

The Committee will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the training room of Valley Memorial Hospital (the building in back of VMH) to discuss the inside features of the structure which, it has been agreed, will be in the general vicinity of The Barn on Pacific Avenue.

A small furor arose from various city committees when Gammill proposed the multi-service center be located almost immediately adjacent to The Barn. Such a site, they said, would cut off the area around the historic Barn used for community events.

The city council agreed the new building should be located farther from The Barn although in the same general vicinity.

The exact site location remains to be chosen.

Homeowners won't meet this week

SAN RAMON — There will be no meeting of the San Ramon Homeowners Association Thursday because several directors will be out of town, leaving the body without a quorum, a spokesman announced yesterday.

The SRHA will hold its regular twice monthly meeting on June 17, with assessed valuation increases the chief topic.

Assessed valuation in the San Ramon Valley rose an average 35 per cent, the largest increase of any area in the county. This subject will be discussed, along with other ongoing matters, at the next meeting.

A complete agenda of the June 17 meeting will appear in the June 16 edition of The Times.

School size watched

DANVILLE — Proposed land uses in the revised San Ramon Valley general plan are partly intended to find solutions to crowding in schools, says the county.

"The (general plan) committee members didn't feel they were experts in schools...but (thought) they couldn't be silent on it," James Cutler of the county planning staff said.

As a result, the San Ramon Valley Unified School District is affected in two of the plan's four goals, zoning of downtown Danville and in use of community facilities.

The committee is supporting the district's bedroom tax on new residential development and suggests restraining development until there are adequate school facilities.

Other policies for schools include recognizing state standards on maximum classroom size and keeping the school system above the state's other minimum standards.

Committee members made these policies "with a certain nervous feeling" and at the same time tried "to keep options open," Cutler said.

Keeping development in pace with existing facilities is also addressed in one of the plan's goals, as is protecting the "livability and usefulness of existing development and its physical setting."

If the plan is adopted by the county Board of Supervisors, it will also help the district plan for expansion.

It sets out which areas will be developed and how.

Restricting some new home construction to one-acre lots could also diminish the district's need to build a major facility, Cutler said.

CAMPAIGN

Editor's note: Candidates and campaign managers should be advised that no submissions to Campaign '76 will be accepted after noon today. The final Campaign '76 prior to the Primary Election on June 8 will appear tomorrow, June 4.

Expectations exceeded

LIVERMORE — Larry Bakken, campaign treasurer for "Citizens for Marguth," has announced that the citizen response to Gib Marguth's Zone 7 candidacy has exceeded every expectation.

With a week to go, more than 179 citizens have contributed an average of $13.50, Bakken said, to give the committee the funds necessary to meet nearly all projected campaign expenses.

Bakken said, "The number of contributions has been increasing steadily and seems to reflect a growing awareness of the importance of the Zone 7 election and the strengths Gib Marguth will bring to the board."

Melanie Houser, Marguth's campaign manager, said, "It is reassuring to see people getting involved in our local government. People who have never been involved in a political campaign are walking precincts for Gib, making signs, sending post cards and calling their neighbors to urge them to vote on June 8. Maybe Gib's optimism and positive attitude toward problem solving is getting through and making a difference. I'm really encouraged."

Hasseltine supported

DANVILLE — The National Women's Political Caucus has announced its support of Eric Hasseltine for Contra Costa Supervisor, Fifth District.

In receiving the news, Hasseltine said he was "very pleased to have the support of the National Women's Political Caucus because this organization is committed to the elimination of all forms of injustice, including sex discrimination."

"I believe that the Board of Supervisors must take a leadership role in eliminating discrimination in this county."

"We can begin by examining the possibility of establishing a new human relations commission," Hasseltine said.

Letters to the Times

For or against

Editor, The Times:

A big ripoff takes a lot of preparation, but if you pay attention you can see it coming step by step until it is obvious. Some of the biggest manipulations involve land speculation, and the "Geldertown" plan is just such a speculation. Its adverse effects are recognized by all the valley agencies — Livermore, Pleasanton, VCSO — as well as by regional agencies like ABAG.

It has become clear that the public opposes "Geldertown" and so all Zone 7 candidates now express disapproval too. Five of the candidates can be judged by their public record. Miller and Futch have been outspoken in their opposition from the start. Harris has generally (but not always) voted to deny supporting services to the likes of "Geldertown." Kinney and Schweser, however, have established pro "Geldertown" records.

To succeed, "Geldertown" must first be removed from Livermore's sphere of influence. Mr. Schweser has voted on LAFCO to do just this and Mr. Kinney has twice voted against the Pleasanton Council's opposing the LAFCO position on this important matter. These are votes for "Geldertown" and no amount of denial can change the record.

Messers Kinney and Schweser are on the spot. If their early votes were made because they didn't understand the implications, their qualifications for public office are suspect, if they did know what they were voting for, their commitment to the public welfare is in doubt.

Let the voters beware before giving support to unknown quantities. The stakes are too important. Kinney and Schweser — and Marguth as well — want Zone 7 to be a sewer agency. This is contrary to the wishes of Livermore, Pleasanton and VCSO. Who, then, will benefit? You get one guess. Remember, a real test of what a candidate will do if elected is measured by who is supporting him.

Yours Truly
Herman R. Leider
Livermore

Water costs

Editor, The Times:

In a recent editorial, The Times "pooh-poohed" the issue of Zone 7 finances, reserves and water rates. I am the only candidate concerned about excessively high water rates and the stockpiling of money to bypass voter approval of expansions for developers. Since I believe that this issue is important, I would like to indicate to the voters what The Times is trying to dismiss.

The Times' editorial asserts that (1) the board's failure to provide an understandable budget does not make them negligent, crooked or misguided, and (2) the Zone sells water at just over cost.

My response is as follows: (1) The present board majority is negligent if its budget is not understandable to all. (2) It is simply false to say that the Zone sells water at just over cost. In fact, contrary to the board's pre-election promises, the full cost of Project 2 is included in our water rates even though connection fees are enough to pay for it. Indeed, wholesale water rates can be reduced 30 per cent from this factor alone.

The public is being "ripped-off" by an irresponsible majority of the Zone 7 Board. This Board has conspicuously failed to keep its promises to the public on Project 2 financing. It needs a new direction and a new attitude toward the public. I will work for lower water rates, no stockpiling of our money to benefit developers, and a budget which all of us will be able to understand.

Musical signs

Editor, The Times:

The sign hassle is a pain. As nearly as I can find out there are no enforceable sign laws, except that property owners may remove signs if they want to.

Nothing has been done about illegally placed signs on utility poles, mostly Harris, (who is a lawyer and should know better) and Hart; or Miller signs on the right of way (on Vasco Road for example.)

Or the Miller signs put right on top of other candidates' signs (without permission of the property owner). At least with the Miller signs you know who did it, they keep telling us in the papers.

As for the pile of Miller signs, I can see why property owners are getting a little irate.

I hope before we get into the fall election some rules are made and enforced so that candidates don't have to waste money on the musical signs game. My candidates don't have that kind of money to throw around.

Mary Gregory

Another machine

Editor, The Times:

The Miller-Futch machine is upset because there is another machine in the valley now. It's called the Valley First Committee machine. Miller - Futch feel that their machine has exclusive grazing rights around the Zone 7 water hole.

The Valley First Committee machine has been scoring lots of points lately.

I especially like the part where Miller and Futch are elected to Zone 7, they will scare even more business out of the valley than they already have.

Seems as though Miller - Futch have an anti-business image. Wonder where they ever got that idea?

Chuck Mahler
Livermore

Curious signs

Editor, The Times:

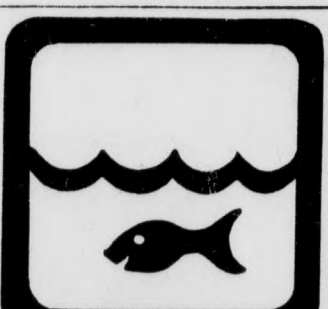

I have spent a reasonable period of time putting up Don Miller for Zone 7 signs.

It is somewhat disconcerting to have a young lady drive to my house with her car trunk loaded with 20 previously erected Don Miller signs she discovered in the street at Gilford and Hillcrest avenues.

The signs appear to have been taken from the area east of Hillcrest, south of East Avenue and west of Madison.

I cannot say this is conspiratorial, however, it is strange that signs of other candidates in the same area were not removed. I would have hoped a more mature campaign could be conducted.

Sincerely,
Claude A. Smith

East Bay Parks program

Biology camp offered youths

Valley students who have a flair for biology, and are 11 to 15 years old, are invited to a biology camp sponsored by the East Bay Regional Park District at Camp Ohlone, Fremont.

The special session will be limited to 28 students; fee is $50. June 14 is the application deadline.

EBRPD naturalist Steve Abbots is in charge of the June 22 - 26 session. Applicants may call him at the Tilden Regional Park Environmental Education Center, Berkeley, at 525-2233.

Students will live outdoors at Camp Ohlone, one of the few remaining true wildernesses in the Bay Area, and will do field study in botany, entomology, herpetology, ornithology, mammalogy and geology — all conducted by experts in their fields.

The camp is situated at 1,600 feet elevation in the Alameda Creek canyon on the Alameda - Santa Clara County line seven miles from Sunol Regional Wilderness.

Those who attend will be chosen for their interest, aptitude in the natural sciences and personal motivation.

Summer signups invited by Murray

DUBLIN — There's still a chance for local students to register for the Murray Elementary School District summer school.

Far from old-time summer schools which were for kids who had flunked English or math, this summer's program here promises to be an exciting one, with a great variety of learning and fun activities planned for each of the five weeks.

The four-hour day will be divided into two hours of basic skills and two hours of enrichment activities at all schools.

Next year's sixth, seventh and eighth graders will attend Wells Junior High and can select four classes from a large variety of courses. The popular outdoor recreation is available again this summer. For those who wish to spend a week at camp in the Sierra, outdoor education is accepting a limited number of applications.

Attorney says losses of bread firm wrong

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)

— An attorney who won a large settlement from the Larraburu Bakery says figures used by the company to explain its demise as the city's second largest purveyor of sourdough bread are incorrect.

The company's ovens cooled and its precious "starter" was placed in deep freeze over the weekend after its owners announced that a $2 million judgment stemming from the 1972 injury of a child by a bakery truck had placed it in precarious financial position.

Attorney Norman Harris said Tuesday that the award to the 4-year-old boy was $1.489 million, not $2 million, and that the bakery's insurance company paid the award even though its liability limit was $1.25 million.

Harold Paul Jr., president of the bakery, agreed that the $2 million verdict was reduced by the judge by $500,000 but said the award nevertheless had a "domino effect."

"The minute the verdict came down and the fact was known that we only had $1.25 million in insurance, there was, in effect, a run on the bank," Paul said. "Creditors, unions and suppliers panicked."

He said the firm had to file bankruptcy proceedings as a result of the verdict.

By AL FISCHER

The Concord Pavilion came of age this past weekend!

Nestled in the hills a good distance from central Concord, and about a 40-minute drive from the Livermore-Amador Valley, the outdoor arena had its first-ever sellout crowd for the Boz Scaggs concert.

Scaggs drew in excess of the stated capacity of 8,000, an estimated 80 to 90 per cent of whom were between 15 and 25 years of age. Though the two preliminary acts were "hard-core" rock and roll, with all the attendant amplification and head-throbbing sound, Scaggs actually blends rock with pop and soul selections.

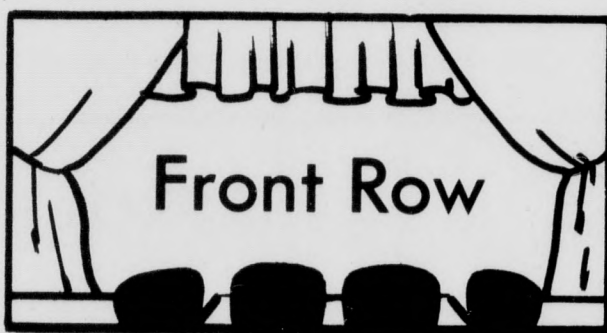

One would presume just from hearing Scaggs, that he is another fine black soul singer. The fact is he is white.

The Concord Pavilion is an outgrowth of an idea generally considered to have been shepherded by Carl Jefferson, owner of a major auto dealership in Concord. Jefferson was instrumental in beginning the Concord Summer Festival eight years ago. The Festival, which is held the final two weeks in July, focuses on jazz artists and was initially held in a Concord park.

From the highly-successful festival came the impetus to form the Performing Arts Society, a blending of the municipal government in Concord with the Mount Diablo Unified School District.

The Pavilion was pretty much of an instant success its first season (last year) but the variety of artists presented did not start drawing near-capacity audiences until the start of the current season last month.

The only group to draw near the 8,000 capacity last year was Three Dog Night, a rock group.

Prior to Friday night's sellout, Seals and Croft came within a couple hundred of capacity earlier this month.

The facility, though predominantly built for entertainment, has also hosted high school graduations and will be the scene of a mock political convention to be put on by high school students in the Mount Diablo Unified School District. Because it is an outdoor facility, with a gigantic roof over the seat area (3,500 seats and 4,500 capacity on the lawn area), the Pavilion has scheduled events from late April until October.

The temperature last Friday was cool, and turned colder as the evening wore on. By 11:15 p.m., when we left, it couldn't have been higher than the mid-50s.

In the coming weeks, the Pavilion will run the gamut as far as attractions. Stephen Stills and the Chambers Brothers headline this Saturday night with Leon Russell and the Sons of Champlin following on Sunday.

In coming weeks, the Pavilion will have Peter Nero with the Oakland Symphony Pops Orchestra, Captain and Tennille, the Pat Boone family, the San Francisco Ballet (June 25) and Johnny Mathis.

Chabot College closes season with Thornton Wilder's 'Our Town'

Spring drama selection for the Chabot College Humanities Department is Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer Prize-winning "Our Town" in its final performances June 4, 5 and 6.

Especially appropriate in the Bicentennial year of introspection, is this chronicle of turn-of-the-century America which closes the academic year's presentations at the Chabot College Little Theater in Hayward. The curtain rises Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m., and Sunday at 3 p.m.

Production Director Kathleen Conneely envisions the play as "a strong moral statement of how we were, as a growing nation, before technology and progress swept us into the Twentieth Century. This drama stands as a deeply-moving hymn to normality and the average person, and acts as a powerful statement about American life."

Pam Naibert and Thom Hanks are cast as the central characters, Emily Webb and George Gibbs, with supporting roles played by Denise Robertson, Jennifer Griffen, Greg Fitzgerald and Bob McCoy. Cast in the pivotal role of Wilder's "master of ceremonies," the Stage Manager, is Jim Coon, a familiar performer to Little Theater audiences.

Tickets for the production may be reserved by calling 782-3000, Ext 481, 240 or 286. General admission is $2, $1.50 for students, and $1 for A.S.C.C. sticker holders and senior citizens.

KAREN BOYLE

"Taxi Driver" is a seamy testament to Twentieth Century civilization, a chronicle of the disintegration of modern society. It is the story of a man's inability to cope in a world where once-accepted values have been turned upside-down, where communication and caring have been erased.

Robert DeNiro plays Travis Bickle, a 26-year-old ex-Marine who becomes a hack because he can't sleep nights. He takes the late shift, driving the streets of New York City from Times Square to Harlem, 6 p.m. to 6 a.m. every day.

As he chauffeurs fares from place to place, Bickle moves among the denizens of the night: the pimps and the pushers, the whores and the junkies, the losers and the lonely.

Bickle hates these night creatures, and he longs for a strong summer rain to wash them from the streets of the city into the sewer.

"Taxi Driver" reveals his frustrated attempts to bring himself out of their element while slipping ever closer to the brink of breakdown. For Travis Bickle is a contradiction, as the waspy young woman (Cybill Shepard) he tries to impress tells him.

He is the lonely drifter he so despises. He lives in the bowels of New York City and consorts with losers he cannot stomach. But he aspires to a better life, keeping a journal of his thoughts and feelings, reacting to his surroundings with a sensitivity that is almost too poignant to observe.

Robert DeNiro's portrayal of the tormented taxi driver demonstrates once and for all his unsurpassed ability as an actor. DeNiro's fine performances in "Godfather II" and Martin Scorsese's "Mean Streets" received less attention than they deserved.

But DeNiro's triumph in his second Martin Scorsese film "Taxi Driver" cannot be ignored. He handles Bickle's contradictory character without the schizophrenic splintering of personality to which a lesser actor might have succumbed.

The same can be said for Scorsese, whose "Mean Streets" went largely unnoticed by both critics and public. "Taxi Driver" is Scorsese's second look at the society through the microcosm of New York City, teaming with ugliness like a festering sore.

Fine performances are given by Harvey Keitel as a heroin-addicted pimp and Jodee Foster as the twelve-year-old prostitute he uses to support his habit.

Bernard Herrmann's fine musical score does much to further the eerie night atmosphere.

"Taxi Driver" is a difficult film to experience. Much has been made of the very violent sequence near the end of the movie. But the bloody carnage is significantly less disturbing than is the impression created by the film in its entirety.

For "Taxi Driver" is the story of a man who loses control, and that prospect is far more universal in its implications than are threats of vicious and violent death.

Bickle is lost and lonely. He begins to break down, and grows increasingly desperate to assert control. He is a victim of society's disinterest and disdain.

"Taxi Driver" is frightening because it forces viewers to recognize how tenuous is their own ability to cope and how responsible each of us is for Bickle's plight.

For Thursday, June 3, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
There's a possibility you can make small but costly mistakes today in handling your money or possessions. Shun financial risks.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
You need a reminder today or you're apt to forget something important you promised to do for another. They're counting on you.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
Keeping secrets is not your strong suit today. Take care before you open your mouth.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
Something awkward could occur between you and a friend today over a money matter. The amount is apt to be trivial. Save the relationship.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
You may put more stock than it's worth in a remark by an influential contact today. Chances are his words weren't all that significant.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
You have a way of talking yourself into things today. You could also verbalize your way out of them. Know when to stop and listen.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Someone you're very fond of socially may not be the right party for a business venture. Don't get this person's hopes up by promising what you can't deliver.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
Don't show your aces today before your hand is called. Wait until the time is ripe to show.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
If someone does a personal favor for you today, keep it private. Revealing it would compromise your benefactor.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
While you'll be justly proud of your achievements today, it's better not to brag about them. Someone on a losing streak would resent it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
You'll make a difficult decision today. It's best if you're left to your own devices. Discussing it with the wrong person can lead to self-doubts.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
Don't be timid today about asking a just price for your services. You're vulnerable to being talked into a no-profit deal.

Your Birthday

June 3, 1976
You have won some very valuable friends who can be of great help to you this coming year. Don't be too proud to accept because you feel you're imposing.

We are indebted to H. W. Kelsey and his "Bridge Logic" for another hand. You have reached three notrump without showing your club suit and West opens the eight of clubs. One entry is gone from dummy, but you don't worry — or maybe you do.

Anyway, you lead a heart to your queen which holds. You cash your ace of hearts and East drops a club. How can you establish your hearts?

The simple way is to lead a diamond and play dummy's 10. If it holds you will make a lot of tricks. If it loses and a spade comes back, your contract may disappear into thin air.

Do you need four diamond tricks? No, two will be enough.

You lead your queen of diamonds to dummy's king! Now you lead the jack of hearts. West wins but he can't lead that deadly spade. He leads a second club. You take your king and lead a low diamond to dummy's 10 and nine. You are sure of your contract in spite of all your misfortunes.

A Michigan reader wants to know what you respond to partner's one-spade opening with:

This is one of those problems with no answer. In standard American you are supposed to respond one notrump, but everyone hates to bid notrump with your distribution. So we tend to take a chance, respond two hearts and hope for the best.

Depth and a relatively injury free season are the keys to the success of Amador High School's 1976 football team, according to head coach Fred Wood.

The Dons, who are currently undergoing spring practice, finished second in the East Bay Athletic League with a 4-1 record last season. They achieved that mark in spite of a rash of injuries which greatly crippled the team's strength.

"There were only two or three players on the squad who managed to escape missing at least one contest because of injuries," Wood said. "This year we hope to overcome that problem."

"I think we'll have more depth this year and that would help overcome any injury problems we might have."

As of now the Dons have about 90 players working out. This includes both varsity and junior varsity candidates.

Another area where Wood feels the Dons will be improved is in physical size. Last year Amador was frequently outweighed by its opponents.

"We figure to have more size this year," Wood admitted. "Last year we sometimes played with 160 pound tackles and that hurt us."

One of the most promising "big men" the Dons have is Bob Koopman, a 205-pounder. Koopman played center his sophomore season but switched to tackle last season. Wood is thinking about switching him back to center this year.

Other top lineman include Dave Sebahar, a 185-pound tackle and Eric Larson, a 190-pounder who is also one of the EBAL's best shotputters.

"Sebahar has put on about 15 or 20 pounds since last season," Wood enthused. "He should be a big help to us."

Reed McCauley and Mike Miller are other excellent prospects. McCauley, a 180-pounder, is expected to play at cornerback this season and is rated as a "real good all-around defender" according to Wood.

However, the biggest improvement for Amador could come at the linebacker spots. Ernie Zumbach, Mike Hoff and junior varsity graduate Al Gardiner form a potent group, according to Wood.

Mention Amador's offense and you have to start with senior Mike Goodison.

Goodison, who made all-league at running back as a sophomore, missed the first part of his junior year because of mononucleosis.

If he stays healthy Goodison could be the best all-around back in the league. A 5-9, 180 pounder he poses a triple-threat as he can pass, run and catch with the best of them.

"Mike's about a 4.7 man in the 40-yard dash," Goodison admitted. "But what really makes him effective is his all-around running ability. He can cut really well and that is his biggest asset."

A battle royal at quarterback is developing between John Sevo and Mike Guglielmo. Sevo started much of the 1975 season while Guglielmo has improved rapidly. Sevo handled the Dons' kicking last season and should be one of the East Bay's best this year.

The quarterback battle could be critical in the Amador hopes for a championship team. Wood wants his team to pass more than last season.

"Passing will be more important to us this year," he said. "We plan to run the wishbone - option again but we'll also run more out of the I."

The Dons' expected improvement couldn't come at a better time. Amador faces one of its toughest schedules ever with non league powerhouses Tracy and Mission San Jose among its foes. Add to this the fact most of the EBAL's teams will be fielding veteran teams and improvement becomes a necessity.

Sobers-led rally gives Suns win

Suns' Steve Kuberski (44) waits for ball against Celtics.

PHOENIX (AP) — Ricky Sobers, Phoenix' embattled rookie, sparked a decisive third-quarter surge that carried the Suns to a dramatic 109-107 victory over the Boston Celtics Wednesday night and tied their National Basketball Association championship series at 2-2.

Game Five in the nationally televised best-of-seven series will be Friday night in Boston, with the sixth game in Phoenix Sunday. If a seventh game is necessary, it will be at Boston next Wednesday night.

Paul Westphal was Phoenix' high scorer with 28 points against his former Boston teammates. Rookie Alvan Adams added 20 points and Gar Heard had 19 points and 15 rebounds for Phoenix. But it was the fiery Sobers who triggered a 12-point Sun burst that put them ahead to stay.

With Boston leading 71-70 midway through the third period, Sobers hit a driving layup. After Curtis Perry sank another layup, making it 74-71 Phoenix, Sobers connected for six consecutive points — on four foul shots and one layup after a steal.

To complete the spree, Sobers fed Keith Erickson for a wide-open jump shot, putting the Suns in front 82-71.

The Celtics, paced by JoJo White who scored a team-high 25 points, rallied within two points eight times in the final period of the foul-marred game, but key baskets by Westphal, Adams, Sobers and Heard blunted their threats.

Boston had a chance to tie the score and send the game into overtime in the closing seconds, but White missed a jumper from the side of the lane just before the buzzer and Adams grabbed the rebound as the game ended, much to the delight of the more than 13,000 fans in the Veterans Memorial Coliseum.

Dave Cowens added 22 points for the Celtics, including a hook shot with 50 seconds remaining that pulled Boston to within 109-107, and Paul Silas had 18.

Adams, the NBA's Rookie of the Year and the series' leading scorer with 98 points in four games, was the Suns' biggest contributor in the final period, with four field goals.

Sobers wound up with 14 points for Phoenix. The first half, especially the opening period, was marred by a rash of fouls called by referees Manny Sokol and Don Murphy. The officials also tagged both coaches, Tom Heinsohn of Boston and John MacLeod of Phoenix, with one technical foul apiece.

A total of 24 personal fouls — 13 against Boston and 11 against Phoenix — were assessed in the first quarter.

Balanced attack gives Mutual 12-5 victory

Five players had three or more hits for the winners as Mutual Service Insurance belted Kavanagh Liquor's 12-5 in a Livermore Area Recreation Men's Softball contest Tuesday.

Ed Groover and Dennis Murphy each had four hits for the winners. Chas Hartle, Glen Black and Dave Toso each added three hits. Hartle scored three runs.

Jim Kashamiri, Gary Gonzales and Tom Favero each had two hits for the losers. Woody Manchester added a hit and scored once.

The winners had 21 hits and the losers 12.

Jack Piukeral and Bob Cantrell each had two hits and scored twice to spark Livermore Station to a 10-3 victory over Kings Brigade.

Ray Borges added three hits and one run for Livermore Station. Terry Doe and Jim French each had two hits to lead the losers' attack.

The winners only out-hit Kings Brigade 10-9 but scored five runs in the second and four in the fifth to clinch the victory.

Keep Cool Radiator smashed 14 hits in taking a 3-2 win over Farmers' Insurance.

Phil and Tim Kerrigan sparked the winners with four and three hits, respectively. Jim Hegarty and Tom Morris each had two hits.

Phillip Chubb had two hits to pace the losers. Jim Thimes and Mike Gutierrez each scored once for Farmers' Insurance.

Caroline Glafkides, Esther Millikin and Suzanne Schmidt had the hits for the Wood Wrens while Nancy Erven, Sandy Mahoney, Dana Gower and Teresa Ball starred for the winners.

pair of singles for the Diggers. Simone Rose had three hits while Regan Dolsby cracked two for the Spirit.

ads, and soups for the lunch bunch, as well as full service breakfasts for the morning crowd. Judie is also the moving force behind Bella's Delicatessen in the Amador Valley Shop-

KQED auction

Over 10,000 original, antique and new items of all kinds will be sold on the annual KQED, Channel 9, television auction, June 4 through the 17.

It will be televised, originating from the Cow Palace, from the San Francisco PBS facility from 4 p.m. to midnight weekdays and from 1 p.m. to midnight on weekends.

The auction is an opportunity for an at-home shopping spree. All merchandise and gift certificates will be seen or described during the broadcast.

A volunteer telephone operator will answer your call and take your bid. Things will move faster if the information is given in the following order since it is the way the bid card is set up: the table item is on; item number; what the item is; the amount of your bid; your name, spelling it out; your address; your city and zip code; the telephone number you are calling from; your home telephone number only if it differs from the bidding number.

By bidding in this order giving this information, your bid will be taken much faster and will have a better chance of getting to the table before it is closed and sold off.

Valley committee members will be "on camera" and behind the scenes during telecasts. They will be answering telephones, working in confirmation or pick-up and pay, helping at the blackboard or table assisting.

Livermore chairman, Chris Tanner has been volunteering time at the Cow Palace since the first of May. She is assisting with processing of donated merchandise.

Carter kicking off California campaign

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Jimmy Carter said Wednesday that he now feels more confident of winning the Democratic presidential nomination on a second convention ballot than on a first vote.

"I think it's inevitable that I would gain on a second ballot," Carter told a press conference in Los Angeles before flying here for a noontime rally one week before the state's primary.

The former Georgia governor said he was still confident that he could win the first time the convention voted, but he said there were a number of delegates that could not back him on a first ballot and would vote for him on a second.

ished second behind an uncommitted slate in Rhode Island.

Carter said at a Tuesday night press conference that he thought the "stop-Carter" movement was losing steam and that he had a chance of picking up some members of the Rhode Island uncommitted delegation.

A total of 540 delegates are up for grabs for the Democratic contenders in the three primaries next Tuesday.

The meeting is at 7:30 p.m. in Room E-1, Amador High School, Santa Rita Road, Pleasanton. Participants will be asked what they want to see in local child care — from toy lending libraries to a centralized number for babysitter placement to after-school transportation. ### Amador services Sunday

Baccalaureate services will be held Sunday afternoon for Amador High graduating seniors.

"See Ye First the Kingdom of God and His Righteousness and all these things shall be passed unto you" is the theme for the 2:30 p.m. ceremony in St. Augustine's Catholic Church.

The program, under the direction of the Rev. Robert Vogt of Presbyterian Community Church, and Janet Jacobson, will feature several members of the class including Cathy Evanson, Rick Burroughs, Wendy Faris, Pete Simms, Michele Tanneberg, Joyce Johnson, Peggy Holm, Kathy Scribner, Beth Ann Barch and Kris Redeker.

Amador High commencement exercises will be 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 9, at the county fairgrounds amphitheatre.

The Rev. Raymond O'Neill, associate pastor of St. Augustine's Church, will deliver the invocation.

Valedictorian Steve Churchill will speak on "Change Means You," and salutatorian Bruce McDannold will follow up with "The Good New Days."

School board members John Delaney and Dr. Geraldine Donaldson will present the 450 diplomas and the Rev. Bill Pemberton of the First Baptist Church, Pleasanton, will offer a benediction.

Nuclear bills set standards

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's nuclear power safeguard legislation will "be a standard for America" to follow, and may spark even more laws to regulate the industry, authors of the bills said Wednesday.

Assembly Speaker Leo McCarthy, D-San Francisco, also told reporters that "three countries — Sweden, New Zealand and, I believe, England — have contacted California about the bills, as have 40 states."

Two of the bills' authors, Assemblymen Terry Goggin, D-San Bernardino, and Bruce Nestande, R-Anaheim, told a news conference that Californians should reject the Nuclear Power Plants Initiative on next Tuesday's ballot because the bills are strong enough.

The bills fall far short of the initiative, however, in that they grant exemptions to existing plants and ignore a primary initiative requirement: unlimited liability of plant owners if there is an accident.

The measures permit the legislature to ban new nuclear plants if it feels the federal government has not adequately solved problems of recycling fuel and storing wastes.

Gov. Edmund Brown Jr., yet to take a stand on the initiative, will sign the bills Friday, said his executive secretary, Gray Davis.

Goggin said the initiative "still has a chance, but not probably as good as it had before these bills passed."

Opinion polls have shown the initiative, Prop. 13, trailing but with a "substantial" number of undecided voters, who could be persuaded to vote against it because the legislature acted, Goggin said.

Nestande said the bills "establish a new standard across America." He added that a change in national policy benefiting all states would result if the federal government satisfies California.

Assemblyman Charles Warren, a Los Angeles Democrat who was the bills' main backer, said he will remain neutral on Prop. 13. As unprecedented as they are, he said, they are a "minimal" legislative response to questions raised because of the initiative.
